Robert Layton is the Elephant on Mr. Powderly's Hands.

Hot Times in the General Assembly at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)

Indiana arrived at the afternoon session of the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor yesterday, the consideration of the case of Harry J. Skemington, of the shoe-makers' National District, had not been concluded, and was in consequence laid over until this morning.

The Committee on Appeals and Grievances has recommended that he be suspended from the Order for a period of one year, but the delegates are of the opinion this morning that the report of the Committee will be rejected.

Following this case will come the report of the Finance Committee, which will surely provoke a hot discussion.

Carlton, Barry and Bailey have made exorbitant charges in their accounts, and it is said that the first-mentioned gentleman may be expelled from the Order for dishonesty while in office.

When the Committee on Finance has finished, the case of District Assembly 46, New York City, will come up this afternoon.

It has now been decided that the election of officers will be proceeded with on Friday morning. The anti-Powderly people say that the delegates already been made out, and they can name it throughout. "The present Secretary, will be Secretary-Treasurer."

The trouble is going to arise when it comes to the election of the Secretary-Treasurer. He came to Indianapolis fully expecting to be made Secretary, or Secretary-Treasurer. If the officers elected are the anti-Powderly people, he will be expelled from the Order.

It is now decided that Layton in charge of the Legislative Committee will be expelled from the Order. He has been repeatedly promised for the last two years that he should be made a national Secretary.

Two months ago, it is said, Powderly wrote a letter to him, saying: "I hope you will be made a delegate from your district, and nothing would please me better than to see you back at your old place as national Secretary."

The discontented various trades assemblies express towards the K. of L. is growing. It is generally believed that the delegates to the convention will be made up of delegates from the various trades assemblies, and that the delegates from the K. of L. will be made up of delegates from the various trades assemblies.

A BRACE OF ENGLISH CROOKS.

ED MEDCALF AND HIS PAL BAGGED IN THIS CITY AFTER A RICH HAUL.

They Burglarized Herman Kolney's Bond Street Store and Took His Whole Stock of Merchandise, Completely Emptying Him—Wesley Makes a Full Confession at Police Headquarters.

Inspector Ryones has run down two pretentious fellows who robbed a sea-kid dealer of his entire stock, valued at $1,500, drove out of business and forced him to become a journeyman in another city.

A year or more ago, according to a sworn statement by William Wesley, his dupe, Edward Medcalf robbed Hindler & Son, of Wood street, London, of $25,000 worth of sea-kid, fled to this country, and went into that line of business at 18 West Fourth street, and was asked repeatedly to leave the city at his own expense.

Wesley says he arrived from England Aug. 1 and put up at the Cornhill Arms, 11 West street. Here he met Medcalf, better known in England as Medcalf, who was an acquaintance, and entered the store with him. They saw that the relations were not good, and they saw that the relations were not good, and they saw that the relations were not good.

While they were in the store, they saw that the relations were not good, and they saw that the relations were not good, and they saw that the relations were not good, and they saw that the relations were not good.

WILL MORTON HAVE A SAY?

HIS COMING VISIT TO GEN. HARRISON VERY SIGNIFICANT.

Will Platt, Hisebeck, Depew and Miller have to Change Their Operation and Direct Their Batteries Against the Vice-President-Elect—John Sherman in the Cabinet Would Antagonize the Whole Blaine Contingent.

"The 'think tank' of President-elect Harrison is a queer receptacle. He has stored away in it not only his own thoughts and ideas, but all of the thoughts and ideas of hundreds of Republican leaders and office-seekers on the subject of Cabinet material and other Presidential appointments."

It appears capable of receiving any amount of thought, but it is not to be placed on tap for the benefit of any one.

New York State undoubtedly has great claims upon the new Administration, and is destined to be a great factor in it, but who of the leaders of the various interests is to get the big plum, and whose hand will be to distribute the little ones, are the momentous questions which agitate the mind of the President-elect.

COWBOY FRANK'S HARD LUCK

FROM THE WILD TEXAS PLAINS TO A FOLD CELL IN THE TOMBS.

His Sombre and His Gun Betrayed Him to the Sheriff in the Salford District, Who Made Him Drink and Despoiled Him—His Fate as He Moves in Philadelphia Delayed by Judge Duffy.

"What on earth were you doing with that?" ejaculated Justice Patterson at the Tombs Police Court this morning as he held up a russet leather belt, from the pocket of which protruded the cold, black handle of a young gun.

The prisoner was a broad-shouldered, square-jawed young man of less than medium height, and he had carefully spread out a big, broad-brimmed straw sombrero on the rail separating him from the Court. He said his name was Frank Gilroy.

Between the fresh scars of old ones, the blackened eyes and other contusions on his face, the young man blushed painfully and replied: "I was taking them home. I am from Texas, and I was taking the gun to the police station for safekeeping, when they locked me up."

"Great Scott! But these things would make windows in a man!" exclaimed the Justice, as he held up the gun. "What were you doing with that?"

"And the other says you were drunk! Fighting drunk, with this double-action revolver on you! I had to leave to see you in jail, and when you got ready to start for Philadelphia you can have your special agent."

"I was in Philadelphia. He related to this Evening World reporter that he had run away from home in Philadelphia five years ago, and had been in the United States ever since. He was a cowboy, and he was in the United States ever since."
